Subject: Wichita update for 12/22/14
Date: Monday, December 22, 2014 11:11:07 AM

Hi Chris,

Just what you wanted for Christmas, an update on activities at Wichita.

As you might have guessed, activities at the Site for the next couple of weeks will be fairly light. The jobsite will be shut down today at 5 PM and activities will resume next Monday 12/29.

For the next two weeks, the following activities are planned.

Continue loading out soil for disposal

Complete the excavations for Building C, paint pit, Coastal refinery portion of the southwestern

Fenceline, along the water line and finally returning to the northeast corner of the property to re-excavate and sample. Confirmation samples are being collected today and next week as the digging in each area is wrapped up.

I will send you another update next week, probably mid week as not much will change between now and then.

I hope you have a wonderful holiday break and we'll talk to you soon.

Thanks,

Mike Stephenson
